

The 10th Annual
PIKES PEAK LAVENDER FILM FESTIVAL
2009 Sponsor Package

Join us as we celebrate our 10th Anniversary on September 18-19-20, 2009 at Armstrong Hall and the Cornerstone Arts Center on the Colorado College campus in Colorado Springs.

About Us

While there have been other LGBT film festivals in Colorado over the years, the Pikes Peak Lavender Film Festival is the oldest annual LGBT film Festival in Colorado to both survive and thrive. It has been held in Colorado Springs since the year 2000. Each year, four Festival programmers select 9 short films and 9 features from the best films screened at the annual San Francisco International LGBT Film Festival.

PPLFF is held over a three-day period, opening on a Friday evening with a reception before the screening of that night's short and feature. The remaining film programs are presented on Saturday and Sunday, followed by after-parties.

Our Mission

The Pikes Peak Lavender Film Festival strives to build greater community and LGBT alliances through film education, awareness, and celebration.
